Get your company involved?

Corporate businesses play an important role in helping Apex to raise money to do the great work that our Clubs and members do. Corporate Charity Days are like no other, where Apex Australia works with a company to fulfill what the company would like to achieve while focusing on these main aims: helping a great cause, teamwork, learning new skills, and having lots of fun along the way.

Apex Australia always strives to 'think outside the triangle' and this can be seen in many of our innovative concepts that have been completed over the years.

Apex Australia Building Better Communities!

Each club's focus is always on their local communities. The priority for Apex is always to work as a team in our local community to solve local issues. Small groups of people working together can, and do, achieve amazing things. Supporting people in need and making a difference locally is what we do at Apex.

When our small local groups band together nationally, together we have changed the lives of thousands of people. Our innovative national projects have decades of experience in building our nation. Since our inception in 1931 we've assisted Guide Dogs for the Blind, The Royal Flying Doctor Service, research into Childrens Cancer, Craniofacial Australia, Kids Help Line, Diabetes Australia, the Bone Marrow Donor Institute, Multiple Sclerosis research, Clean Up Australia, Melanoma research and Cystic Fibrosis, to name just a few!

Apex's is great at improving the skills of our members, while they get a chance to help young Australians to overcome life's challenges. For almost 100 years Apex has cared for young people through local community based programs that build self esteem, self respect and confidence. Youth Clubs, Teenage Fashion Awards, road safety initiatives, secondary school debating competitions and respite care for recovering or terminally ill children are just some of the ways more hope and encouragement is given to many young Aussies as Apex provides them with the best opportunities to shine.

and proud of it!
